Minutes for Spring Term 2

1. Mrs Sexton

Feedback from classes

Midday supervisors

- Improve communication between midday supervisors
- Encourage and introducing new games.
- Chat to children on the Buddy Bench.
- Better communication between each midday supervisor – possibly walkie talkies.
- Could we get to know them better? Could they come in and chat to classes?
- Know their names, an assembly to remind everyone and name badges on lanyards, could this be done every half term.
- Children need to be more respectful and polite to the midday supervisors. If we got to know them more maybe more people would be respectful.
- Encourage children to spend time talking to the midday supervisors.
- Could they ask more questions to check whether children need to go to the poorly bench rather than just sending children straight away?
- Could we have Lunchtime leaders?
- Some children felt that when there are issues on the playground they don't necessarily get the opportunity to share their side of the story.

How can we measure happiness?

- Remind people about the chat book.
- Some children feel a bit embarrassed about saying how they feel on the feelings register, and would prefer writing it down or marking it on a display.
- The Butterfly House can get busy at lunchtime so is there someone else who could listen?
- A comforting place to go at lunchtime and breaktime to read or colour or chat to a grown up.
- Could the Y6 Quarrelbusters be reintroduced?
- Playground Leaders to help children, who are hurt, monitor people going in and out of the toilet, encouraging people to play games.
- Have a little symbol that you write your initials on the back and put it on the teacher's desk if you need some help. So that the teacher could listen some time during the afternoon or during afternoon break.

PP Ask your class what roles should Playground Leader do in our school.

PP What qualities should a good Playground Leader have?

2. Garden

Mrs Sexton told everyone about Majorie's garden and the improvements that she would like. At the moment the stage is kept in the PE cupboard, if we move this out into outdoor storage areas then the space could be adapted to create a changing room for some children. She would also like to create a space where children could go and work there. She also thinks that Majorie's garden would be an ideal location for the 'Sensory Station' to go here.

3. Any other business

Playground:

- Issues with football dominating the playground.
- Basketball available on the backyard but not the front.
- Netball
- Rota?

PP Ask your class what suggestions they have to improve this problem.
